Dear Sir,

There is any chance that a Nigerian prince who came to live for good in Porto Alegre, a southern Brazil's city, in the early years of 1990's or the late years of 19th Century, even receiving a pension through the local branch of London Bank, would be the Oba Ovonramwen?

I have the story of that Nigerian, and even his picture. If you may have any interest in further information, please answer back to my e-mail joseluiz@logic.com.br

Sincerely

Jose Luiz P. Da Costa
